DECLARATION OF MILES HAWKES
IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF
MICROSOFT CORPORATION'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

21
22 I, Miles Hawkes, hereby declare as follows:

23 1. I am employed as an Anti-Piracy Investigator by plaintiff Microsoft
24 Corporation ("Microsoft") and have been since January 2006. I make this Declaration upon 25 personal knowledge and, if called to testify, could and would testify competently to the facts
26 set forth herein.

1 6. Microsoft also receives information from consumers who are concerned about
2 the legitimacy of Microsoft products they have purchased. Consumers contact Microsoft's
3 piracy hotline, which is a toll free telephone number operated by Microsoft to assist 4 consumers in verifying whether they are using genuine Microsoft products. Microsoft also 5 offers several customer assistance programs including Windows Genuine Advantage and 48
6 Hour PID, which provide a process for consumers to submit suspect software to Microsoft for 7 analysis.

8 7. In my capacity as an Anti-Piracy Investigator, I am familiar with the formal 9 findings of the Microsoft product identification experts and with the infringement reports that 10 are generated by Microsoft when Microsoft receives information that an individual or 11 company may be distributing counterfeit or infringing Microsoft software and/or components.
12 I have reviewed numerous reports regarding infringing Microsoft software and/or components 13 distributed by the defendants in this action.

14 8. On or about April 10, 2006, an outside investigator placed an order for one unit
15 of a Microsoft product known as Office 2003 Standard from the Surplus Computers 16 Defendants through their web site www.surpluscomputers.com. The investigator received the 17 software on or about April 14, 2006. Redacted true and correct copies of the invoice and
18 shipping label that accompanied the software are attached hereto as Exhibit 1. The software
19 (CD-ROM) was later analyzed by a product identification specialist at Microsoft and was
20 determined to be Student Media software, which is licensed for distribution only to specially
21 qualified educational users and which the Surplus Computers Defendants are not licensed to 22 distribute. Manufacturing codes on the CD-ROM and a work order number accompanying 23 the software indicate that the CD-ROM was manufactured in Ireland, and was not licensed for 24 distribution or use in the United States.

25 9. On or about September 26, 2006, an outside investigator placed an order for 26 one unit of a Microsoft product known as Windows XP Professional x64 Edition and one unit
27 of a Microsoft product known as Office 2003 Professional Enterprise Edition from Surplus

1 Computers through their web site www.surpluscomputers.com. The investigator received the 2 software on or about October 2, 2006. Redacted true and correct copies of the invoice and
3 shipping label that accompanied the software are attached hereto as Exhibit 2. The software
4 (CD-ROMs) was later analyzed by a product identification specialist at Microsoft and was
5 determined to be Student Media software, which is licensed for distribution only to specially
6 qualified educational users and which the Surplus Computers Defendants are not licensed to 7 distribute. Manufacturing codes on the Windows XP Professional x64 CD-ROM indicate that 8 the CD-ROM was manufactured in Ireland, and was not licensed for distribution or use in the 9 United States. Manufacturing codes on the Office 2003 Professional Enterprise Edition CD-
10 ROM and a work order number accompanying the software indicate that the CD-ROM was 11 manufactured in Ireland, and was not licensed for distribution or use in the United States.

12 10. On or about November 3, 2006, an outside investigator placed an order for one
13 unit of Windows XP Professional from the Surplus Computers Defendants through their web
14 site www.surpluscomputers.com. The investigator received the software on or about 15 November 13, 2006. Redacted true and correct copies of the invoice and shipping label that 16 accompanied the software are attached hereto as Exhibit 3. The software (CD-ROM) was 17 later analyzed by a product identification specialist at Microsoft and was determined to be
18 Student Media software, which is licensed for distribution only to specially qualified
19 educational users and which the Surplus Computers Defendants are not licensed to distribute.
20 Manufacturing codes on the CD-ROM indicate that the CD-ROM was manufactured in 21 Ireland or Germany, and was not licensed for distribution or use in the United States.

22 11. On or about January 3, 2007, Microsoft notified the Surplus Computers
23 Defendants by letter that Microsoft had analyzed software distributed by them and had 24 identified it as infringing Student Media. The letter demanded that the Surplus Computers
25 Defendants immediately cease and desist all infringing activity and warned that Microsoft
26 reserved "the right to seek all available legal remedies without further notice." The letter was 27

1 delivered by Federal Express to the current business address for the Surplus Computers
2 Defendants. A true and correct copy of that letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 4.

3 12. Despite receiving the warning described in the prior paragraph, the Surplus
4 Computers Defendants continued to engage in their infringing and illegal practices. On or 5 about January 11, 2007, an investigator placed an order for one unit of Windows XP
6 Professional x64 Edition and one unit of a Microsoft product known as Office 2003
7 Professional Enterprise Edition from the Surplus Computers Defendants through their web
8 site www.surpluscomputers.com. The investigator received the software on or about January 9 16, 2007. Redacted true and correct copies of the invoice and shipping label that 10 accompanied the software are attached hereto as Exhibit 5. The software (CD-ROMs) was 11 later analyzed by a product identification specialist at Microsoft and was determined to be
12 Student Media software, which is licensed for distribution only to specially qualified
13 educational users and which the Surplus Computers Defendants are not licensed to distribute.
14 Manufacturing codes on the Windows XP Professional x64 CD-ROM indicate that the CD-
15 ROM was manufactured in Ireland, and was not licensed for distribution or use in the United
16 States. Manufacturing codes on the Office 2003 Professional Enterprise Edition CD-ROM
17 and a work order number accompanying the software indicate that the CD-ROM was 18 manufactured in Ireland, and was not licensed for distribution or use in the United States.

19 13. On or about March 6, 2007, an investigator placed an order for three units of 20 Office 2003 Professional Enterprise Edition from the Surplus Computers Defendants through 21 their web site www.surpluscomputers.com. The investigator received the software on or 22 about March 12, 2007. Redacted true and correct copies of the invoice and shipping label that
23 accompanied the software are attached hereto as Exhibit 6. The software (CD-ROMs) was
24 later analyzed by a product identification specialist at Microsoft and was determined to be
25 Student Media software, which is licensed for distribution only to specially qualified
26 educational users and which the Surplus Computers Defendants are not licensed to distribute.
27 Manufacturing codes on the CD-ROMs and work order numbers accompanying the software

1 indicate that the CD-ROMs were manufactured in Ireland, and were not licensed for
2 distribution or use in the United States.

3 C. Infringement Warnings to Michael Mak's Business

4 14. In addition to the January 3, 2007 letter to the Surplus Computers Defendants
5 regarding Microsoft Student Media (described above in Paragraph 11), Michael Mak or his 6 company has received multiple other warnings from Microsoft.

7 a. On or about April 9, 2000, Microsoft notified Software & Stuff, a
8 "d/b/a" of Defendant Intrax Group, that it may have distributed illegal and/or unlicensed
9 Microsoft software products. That letter informed Software & Stuff of the consequences of
10 illegal distribution of Microsoft software. A true and correct copy of that letter is attached
11 hereto as Exhibit 7.

12 b. On or about May 31, 2000, Microsoft notified Defendant Intrax Group
13 that it may have distributed illegal and/or unlicensed Microsoft software products. That letter
14 informed Intrax Group of the consequences of illegal distribution of Microsoft software. A 15 true and correct copy of that letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 8.

16 c. On or about September 7, 2000, Microsoft notified Software & Stuff, a
17 "d/b/a" of Defendant Intrax Group, that it may have distributed illegal and/or unlicensed
18 Microsoft software products. That letter informed Software & Stuff of the consequences of 19 illegal distribution of Microsoft software. A true and correct copy of that letter is attached
20 hereto as Exhibit 9.

21 d. On or about November 15, 2001, Microsoft notified Software and 22 Stuff.com, a "d/b/a" of Defendant Intrax Group, that it may have distributed illegal and/or 23 unlicensed Microsoft software products. That letter informed Software and Stuff.com of the 24 consequences of illegal distribution of Microsoft software. A true and correct copy of that 25 letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.

D. Microsoft's Copyrights

15. It is my understanding that at all times since their creation, Microsoft has been, and still is, the sole owner of all right, title and interest in, and to, the following software, their corresponding Certificates of Registration, and all subsequent versions thereof:

a. "Microsoft Windows XP Professional" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-407-055);

b. "Microsoft Office 2003 Professional" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-837-617). Microsoft Office 2003 Professional includes the following popular Microsoft programs:

(i) "Microsoft Access 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-901-713);

(ii) "Microsoft Excel 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-837-636);

(iii) "Microsoft Outlook 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-900-087);

(iv) "Business Contact Manager for Microsoft Office Outlook 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-877-513);

(v) "Microsoft PowerPoint 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-852-649);

(vi) "Microsoft Word 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-900-088);

(vii) "Microsoft InfoPath 2003" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-837-619);

c. "Microsoft Office XP" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-329-272).

Microsoft Office XP includes the following popular Microsoft programs:

(i) "Microsoft Access 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-321-421);

(ii) "Microsoft Excel 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-318-231);

(iii) "Microsoft Outlook 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-321-422);

(iv) "Microsoft PowerPoint 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-318-232);

(v) "Microsoft Word 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-321-425);

(vi) "Microsoft FrontPage 2002" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-321-423);

d. "Microsoft Windows 2003 Server" (Copyright Registration No. TX 5-811-026); and

e. "Microsoft Visio 2003" (Copyright Registration TX 5-837-614).

16. True and correct copies of Microsoft's Copyright Registration Certificates for the above-listed software are attached hereto as Exhibits 11 to 28.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true to the best of my knowledge.

DATED this 9, day of July, 2008.

Miles Hawkes

Re: Cease and Desist Illegal Distribution of Infringing Microsoft® Software

Dear Owner:

This law firm represents Microsoft Corporation ("Microsoft"). We are writing to inform you that your company has distributed Microsoft Student Media in violation of Microsoft's rights under the Copyright Act.

Microsoft has established a special academic program to provide Microsoft software products to qualified students and educators to support educational opportunities for students worldwide. The program is open to qualified educational institutions, K-12 and higher, and allows them to purchase software on behalf of their student population at highly discounted prices. The Student Media program is intended only for students enrolled and educators teaching at qualified educational institutions.

Educational institutions that choose to enroll in a Campus Agreement are entitled to license their students for selected Microsoft titles. Each institution may order Student Media throughout the term of its agreement only from Authorized Education Resellers (AERs). Microsoft AERs are specially trained and authorized to sell Microsoft Student Media and Academic Edition software products and licenses to qualified educational users. AERs based in the United States are the only entities authorized to provide Student Media in the United States. Both the education institutions and the AERs are prohibited from reselling this Student Media software because the program is designed to provide low cost software to qualified students and not to the general public.

A qualified educational institution is defined as an accredited institution organized and operated exclusively for the purpose of teaching its enrolled students.

January 3, 2007

An accredited institution must be:

A public or private K-12, vocational school, correspondence school, junior college, college, university, or scientific or technical school that is either institutionally accredited by an accrediting agency nationally recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education or, in the case of public K-12 institutions only, recognized or approved by the Department of Education of the state in which it is located.

OR

A preschool meeting all of the following criteria: (i) is an early childhood program incorporated for the purpose of providing educational services to children between two and five years of age, and which serves a minimum of ten such children; and (ii) has been in operation for at least one year.

<http://www.microsoft.com/education/aerfind.aspx>

You are not an Authorized Education Reseller of Microsoft Student Media nor are you otherwise licensed or authorized to participate in the special licensing program. Your distribution of this Microsoft Software violates, among other laws, 17 U.S.C. § 501. Additionally, if you are acquiring this Microsoft Student Media from abroad, your importation to the United States of that Student Media violates 17 U.S.C. § 602(a). Intentional violation of the Copyright Act may also be subject to criminal penalties. Even an unintentional infringing distribution of Microsoft products in violation of the Copyright Act could subject your company and you personally and individually to civil liability.

In addition to the above, Microsoft possesses compelling and disturbing evidence that individuals located in the Middle East and elsewhere throughout the world are actively defrauding Microsoft by, among other things, abusing the Student Media Program offered to students in that region. These unscrupulous individuals are engaged in a criminal scheme that has resulted in the unlawful importation of thousands of units of misappropriated Student Media from the Middle East to the United States. This criminal enterprise is financed by the improper purchase, import, and distribution of Student Media in the United States. This letter is to formally advise you that your involvement in any of the above is facilitating and financing the unlawful conduct referenced herein. Further, by distributing Student Media you are also tortiously interfering with Microsoft's contractual relationships with its distributors and academic resellers.

Accordingly, Microsoft demands that Surplus Computers and Mike Mak immediately cease and desist all infringing activity, and reserves the right to seek all available legal remedies without further notice.

Further, we demand that within five (5) business days of receiving this letter you provide us with the following documents and information:

- (1) Any and all Microsoft Student Media in your possession;
- (2) Copies of all business records, including, but not limited to, invoices, billing statements, orders and shipping records relating to any Microsoft Student Media that you have acquired and/or distributed;
- (3) The names and full contact information of the companies and/or individuals from whom you acquired any Microsoft Student Media, including addresses, telephone numbers, email addresses and website addresses; and
- (4) Copies of any correspondence, email or otherwise, relating to any Microsoft Student Media you have acquired and/or distributed.

In addition to ceasing any further infringing activities, you, or your attorney, should call us immediately at (206) 971-5817 to discuss this matter, and to make arrangements to provide the requested documents and information. Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

YARMUTH WILSDON CALFO PLLC

Dear Owner:

Microsoft has received a report that you may have distributed illegal and/or unlicensed Microsoft software products. Microsoft would like to take this opportunity to advise you how you can avoid exposing your business to the consequences of counterfeiting and other forms of illegal software distribution.

Consequences of Illegal Distribution

Microsoft takes the protection of its trademarks and copyrights very seriously and undertakes substantial legal and educational programs to protect consumers, honest resellers and honest system builders from counterfeit and illegal products. Microsoft routinely conducts undercover test purchases across the country from system builders and resellers who are reportedly selling counterfeit or other unlicensed Microsoft software. Federal law authorizes damages up to $100,000 per willful copyright infringement and up to $1,000,000 for willful trademark counterfeiting. Intentional violators may also be subject to criminal penalties, including fines and imprisonment.

Types of Software Piracy

Counterfeit: Counterfeiting includes the manufacture or distribution of unauthorized copies of products protected by trademark and copyright. Counterfeiting violates federal copyright and trademark laws, and may expose your company to substantial money damages and unfavorable publicity.

Hard Disk Loading: Hard disk loading is the unlicensed installation of software onto the hard drive of a computer system. All Microsoft software installed on the hard drive of a computer system must be installed pursuant to a license from Microsoft and must be accompanied by a packaged unit of such software that includes a Certificate of Authenticity (COA). Unlicensed installation violates federal copyright and trademarks laws.

Microsoft Worldwide Fulfillment (formerly Microsoft Easy Fulfillment ("MEF")) Software Components: Microsoft offers supplemental CD-ROMs and user manuals only to customers who have already purchased an Open or Select license. Supplemental components are not offered to the general public as retail or OEM products. They lack several essential components of complete Microsoft products, including documentation, COA, End User License Agreement, and warranty. Unauthorized distribution of supplemental components violates federal trademark law.

Unauthorized Distribution of Microsoft Academic or OEM version Products: Authorized Education Resellers licensed by Microsoft (AERs) may distribute academic versions of certain Microsoft products to bona fide educational institutions, students, and other qualified academic end users at substantial discounts. These academic versions are not authorized for distribution to the general public, and such distribution may violate federal copyright law as well as AER license agreements. Similarly, OEM version products may only be distributed with new PC hardware, and standalone distribution may violate federal copyright law as well as OEM license agreements.

How You Can Protect Your Business

One of the easiest ways to safeguard yourself and your company from the liability of dealing in counterfeit or other illegal software is to obtain Microsoft products from authorized sources. Microsoft packaged products and Open licenses can be obtained through the Authorized Microsoft Retail Product Distributors listed on <http://www.microsoft.com/directaccess/antipiracy/disti.htm>.

If you are a System Builder, your assured source of genuine Microsoft OEM products is from the Authorized Microsoft OEM Product Distributors through the Microsoft System Builder Program. Please contact OEM Information at 1-800-325-1233 or visit the Microsoft OEM System Builder Web Site at <http://www.microsoft.com/oem> to register.

If you have questions or concerns regarding the piracy issues discussed in this letter, please call the Microsoft Anti-Piracy Hotline at 1-800 RULEGIT or 1-800-785-3448. For more information regarding Microsoft's efforts to combat software piracy, please visit the Microsoft Anti-Piracy homepage at <http://www.microsoft.com/piracy>.

Microsoft routinely conducts undercover test purchases across the country from system builders and resellers who are reportedly selling counterfeit or other unlicensed Microsoft software. Federal law authorizes damages up to $150,000 per each willful copyright infringement and up to $1,000,000 for each registered trademark subjected to willful trademark counterfeiting. Intentional violators may also be subject to criminal penalties, including fines and imprisonment.

Types of Software Piracy

Counterfeit: Counterfeiting includes the manufacture or distribution of unauthorized copies of products protected by trademark and copyright. Counterfeiting violates federal copyright and trademark laws, and may expose your company to substantial money damages and unfavorable publicity.

All Microsoft software installed on the hard drive of a computer system must be installed pursuant to a license from Microsoft and must be accompanied by a packaged unit of such software that includes an End User License Agreement (EULA), CD-ROM, User Manual, Certificate of Authenticity, and registration card that are part of that software program. Unlicensed installation violates federal copyright and trademarks laws.

Microsoft Worldwide Fulfillment (formerly Microsoft Easy Fulfillment ("MEF")) Software Components: Microsoft offers supplemental CD-ROMs and user manuals only to customers who have already acquired an Open or Select license. Supplemental components are not offered to the general public as retail or OEM software. How You Can Protect Your Business

It is important to understand that resellers of counterfeit or infringing software risk exposure to substantial liability even if the reseller does not possess actual knowledge that the software was counterfeit or infringing. The easiest way to safeguard yourself and your company from the liability of dealing in counterfeit or other illegal software is to obtain Microsoft software and hardware components from authorized sources. Microsoft packaged products and Open licenses can be obtained through the Authorized Microsoft Retail Product Distributors listed on <http://www.microsoft.com/directaccess/products/distributors>.

If you have questions or concerns regarding the piracy issues discussed in this letter, or would like additional information on how to differentiate genuine Microsoft software from counterfeit and infringing software, please call the Microsoft Anti-Piracy Hotline at 1-800 RULEGIT or 1-800-785-3448. For more information regarding Microsoft's efforts to combat software piracy and proactive steps you can take to protect your business, please visit the Microsoft Anti-Piracy homepage at <http://www.microsoft.com/piracy>.
